Welch Allyn®
Spot Vital Signs® 4400 Device

Simplicity, delivered

You work in a fast-paced environment, so you can't afford to slow down when it comes to capturing the basics. Our next-generation vital signs device is here to help. Experience simple, accurate vitals capture with a solution that fits smoothly into your daily routine. The Spot Vital Signs 4400 device offers an efficient way to capture, access and document patient vitals so you can focus on what really matters—spending more time with your patients.

Simple

An intuitive, all-in-one design makes the Spot Vital Signs device easy to use—for caregivers at any level. Add it to your existing workflow without disruption and begin exams quickly from the touchscreen.

Accurate

Trusted for clinical accuracy and consistent measurements,<sup>1</sup> the Spot Vital Signs device can help you make informed treatment decisions at the point of care. The portable design can also help standardize vitals capture throughout your facility and increase productivity for high-volume environments. Plus, blood pressure averaging is now part of the main workflow, enabling you to take and average multiple readings for improved hypertension detection.

Connected

Save time and help reduce data entry errors by sending patient data to the EMR.

Your New Solution for Detecting Hypertension

You may have heard about blood pressure averaging, but do you know how it can help improve hypertension screening?

Relying on a single blood pressure measurement can be misleading. First-time readings can yield higher results than subsequent blood pressure measurements.<sup>2</sup> Additionally, it's common for variations to occur between readings captured in a series.<sup>3</sup> That's why the American Heart Association recommends automated office blood pressure solutions that can capture and average multiple readings during a single visit.<sup>2</sup>

Blood pressure averaging helps provide a more accurate view of your patient's heart health, so you can detect hypertension with confidence.
